

Pie Mulumba

I am a journalist who has just over five years of experience in the magazine and media world. My niche includes beauty, health, fitness, and wellness. I also have a blog whereby I discuss everything that plagues the average millennial, be it family, gender structures, relationships, and beauty. I have an interest in production, writing, acting and all areas that allow for a creative outlet. I have a particular passion for writing poetry, and I hope to grow these skills and experience in the creative field.
