ABOUT ME

I am a bubbly and outgoing person who loves travel, volunteering and meeting new people. I have been solo travelling since 2021 and am in my third year of travelling the world. I started teaching English because I am passionate about learning, development and the way people connect with each other. I have been teaching myself Spanish for the last year and have been loving travelling Spanish speaking countries and volunteering in Spanish schools. My goal for this year is to become fluent in Spanish while teaching English language in South America.
