EMPLOYMENT

My working career has included working in an office support role, mostly in finance departments. I have also worked for film production companies in an office support role and on set where needed. I am a sworn in court officer to transcribe recorded High Court and Magistrate Court recordings for court proceedings.

More recently I completed a Life Skills Coaching course because I am passionate about people and my Cognitive Behavioral Therapist course is also to assist me in understanding people better and if the situation arises to be able to give good advice and to help someone understand their situation that they need advice with.
