My biggest strength in the workplace is the ability to network and collaborate with all different kinds of people. I have extensive experience living abroad as well as working with different age groups. I've worked as a freelance ESL teacher since 2017, and have taught everyone from elementary students, to college students, to senior citizens. I am also a music teacher for elementary-level students. In addition to teaching music, I have directed music programs for nonprofits. My extensive experience in childcare allows me to work well with children of all ages. I have worked as a nanny, babysitter, and nursery worker. Additionally, I have homeschooled children and worked in housekeeping. I have worked in many face-to-face customer service environments.
